DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the Wilmington Journal.

LETTER FROM BISHOP ATKINSON.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, ENGLAND, September 11, 1867.

To the Editors of the Wilmington Journal:

I continue the account of my tour, and the objects of interest which I have seen, from my last letter. I went immediately from Killarney to Chester, passing through Dublin, without stopping, as last year I had spent more than a week in that city and its vicinity. For a similar reason I remained only a few hours in Chester, although its Roman wall, and its venerable Cathedral, and its medieval streets, and the green valley of the Dee, and the far-off mountains of Wales, combine to make it one of the most picturesque and interesting spots in all this fair land.

From Chester I went to Birmingham. The former city is in, what the English call, "the black county," that is, the country of coal and iron, and is one of the principal seats of this important branch of national industry. A cloud of smoke hangs over it, and flames from its many furnaces rise high in the air. Fourteen miles distant is Birmingham, renowned for its manufactures in steel and iron, producing, in unequalled abundance, everything in this line, from a steel-pen, or a child's toy, to the most powerful engine, or the most enormous plates of iron. It has about three hundred thousand inhabitants, and an energetic, wealthy and prosperous population it seems to be. We happened to reach there while a Musical Festival was going on. There were several hundred performers, vocal and instrumental, and among them some of the principal musical celebrities of Europe. The bright, particular star seemed to be a young Swedish girl, of the name of Nilsen. She inherits the honors once paid to Jenny Lind. The Festival continued several days; the hotels were crowded with lovers of music coming up from London and elsewhere to enjoy it, and the receipts were some seventy thousand dollars, which were appropriated, after paying the professional performers, to the benefit of a hospital in the city.

Notwithstanding the utilitarian character ascribed to the English, I believe no people equal them in their devotion to two objects, the good of which is not at all utilitarian, that is Music and Flowers. Musical entertainments seem to be the favorite recreation, not only of the upper classes, but of the multitude, and they are continually going on in the smaller towns and villages, as far as I could see, as well as in the great cities; and the country being so rich, as well as so enthusiastically devoted to this enjoyment, it attracts to itself the choicest music and talent of the world.—Flowers, again, are a passion with this people. They fill the windows and the little front-yards of the laborers' cottages; they bloom around the railway stations, and the richest, most costly and most diversified exotics are cultivated in the gardens and conservatories of the nobility and gentry.

From Birmingham I went to Shrewsbury, a city famous in history as the scene of various memorable events, but especially for the battle fought in the neighborhood between Harry Hotspur and Henry IV., which the genius of Shakspeare has made as familiar to us as if it were the occurrence of yesterday. Shrewsbury is on the Severn, here a narrow, shallow stream, making its way, however, through rich and beautiful meadows, flowing on for perhaps a hundred miles through some of the most charming scenery in England, and receiving tributes on the right hand and on the left until it at last pours itself into Bristol Channel, and becomes one of the principal rivers of the Kingdom. The object, however, which chiefly attracted me was the ruins of a Roman city, called Uriconium, which, within a few years, have been disinterred at a village called Wroxeter, about five miles from Shrewsbury. This ancient city seems to have been one of the most considerable in England, while the Romans occupied the country.—It is mentioned by the geographer Ptolemy as early as the beginning of the second century, and does not appear to have been destroyed until towards the middle of the fifth. When the Roman Legions were withdrawn the British towns were left without that protection, and although, if united, they would have been abundantly able to protect themselves, they did not usually act together, for, indeed, the whole country was in a state of anarchy. Their invaders then, the Picts and Scots from one quarter, and the Saxons from another, had only to attack each place separately, and could, without much difficulty, subdue its resistance.—Mere savages and Pagans as these were, when they forced their way into a place, they spoiled it, burnt it, and then withdrew into their own country, to issue forth after a while on some similar expedition. There are evidences that Uriconium was destroyed in this way, for there are abundant traces of burning, and skeletons have been found in cellars and other hiding places, in one instance with a heap of Roman coins and remains of a box in which they had been deposited, lying near the bones of the unhappy owner. The town then seems, after this catastrophe, to have been entirely deserted for several hundred years, partly from superstitious fear, for such places were supposed to be inhabited by evil spirits. In the meantime, the decaying ruins and the dust began to fill up the spaces between the walls, and when the country became more settled under the Norman Kings, and abbeys and castles and towns to be built, these ruins formed a sort of quarry, from which materials for such structures were taken.—Thus the walls were thrown down, the surface of the earth almost leveled, and a new soil formed on it, until at length it was cultivated as a field, and the very existence of the town only known from ancient authors and tradition. In 1859, however, excavations were commenced, there being then above the surface only a solid mass of masonry, called the Old Wall. This was ascertained to be a part of a large public building, which ran along the side of a paved street, and occupied one of the central points of the city. It is curious to observe the stone steps worn by the feet of men who lived fifteen hundred years ago, as if they had trodden them but yesterday. The ruins of many other buildings have been brought to light, and the general structure of the houses ascertained. They were very solid, even the walls separating the rooms being three feet in thickness. The rooms were high, but seem to have been all on the ground floor. No staircases have been discovered, and it appears quite certain that the rooms were open to the roof. These roofs were very substantial, and were supported probably on strong woodwork. The covering itself consisted of large tiles, or of flags of stone with a hole at one end, through which an iron nail was passed to fasten it to the wooden frame-work. These flags were very thick and heavy, and were made to lap over each other. In towns which were the headquarters of a Legion, the name and number of the Legion were often stamped on the tiles. The internal walls of the house were covered with cement and then painted in frescoe. The coloring is still fresh and the designs are elegant. The rooms were heated from cellars below, called hypocausts, and occasionally you see tubes in the walls to convey the hot air to the sides of the rooms. These cellars had an entrance from the outside, like the mouth of an oven, and the fires being lighted there, the hot air was driven in and filled the space under the floor and ascended by the flues up the walls. The floors, made of cement, rested on a number of short pillars of bricks, or tiles, two or three feet high. The rooms were lighted by windows in the roof, or on the sides, and in these windows it is certain that glass was used, as a good deal of excellent quality has been found in the ruins. This is the more interesting as the impression used to be that the Romans did not use window-glass.

In one of these hypocausts there was a group of skeletons found, and by their side a heap of coins, 132 in number. I saw these and many other coins from the ruins at the Museum in Shrewsbury, and they were interesting as showing the sort of money at that time used. They had been issued chiefly in the reign of Constantine and his sons, bearing their images and superscriptions, and were of very little value, according to our standard, all of the 132 being of copper, except one which was plated with silver, and they thereby show how much more common and cheap the precious metals are now than they were in that age of the world. These ruins interested me so much that I may, perhaps, have exhausted your patience in writing so fully about them.

From Shrewsbury we went down the lonely valley of the Severn to Worcester, where we stopped a few hours to visit the Cathedral. This is one of the finest in England, built in the 13th. and 14th. centuries, but appears to less advantage now, as it is at present in the process of restoration. It is 394 feet long, 78 in breadth and 162 in height. There are many monuments, that of King John being the oldest royal monument in England. The tomb of Prince Arthur, the elder brother of Henry the VIII, and the first husband of Catherine of Arragon, a very elaborate piece of workmanship, is a striking object. Near, and, indeed, in the streets of Worcester, your readers will recollect that Charles II lost the last of those great battles, in which the military genius of Oliver Cromwell availed to overthrow the dynasty of the Stuarts, and to establish himself in their place.

From Worcester we came to London, and after a day or two, to this place. To me it is a very delightful spot. The waters are, as a tonic, unequalled; the air is as pure as on a mountain top; the scenery is of endless variety, but every aspect beautiful; the country is undulating, not naturally fertile, but, under high cultivation, productive as a garden. Hops are the principal crop, and this is the season for gathering them, and it is pleasant to see men, women and children, down almost to infants, engaged in picking them. One wonders, in going through Kent and Sussex, what can be done with so many hops, until he sees the breweries and the alehouses, and then he wonders where the hops can be gotten for so much beer. Indeed, great quantities are imported, and the demand increases, for the English, as a people, seem to know very little of water as a beverage, but appear to think it was meant to make beer with, as Brindley, the great engineer, thought that rivers were created to supply canals. Two beautiful objects in this neighborhood are Penhurst, the seat of the Sidneys, and Bayham Abbey, an extremely picturesque ruin.

Yours, &c.,

THOMAS ATKINSON.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1867.

THE PEOPLE MOVING.

The mass meeting of the Conservatives of this County will be held in Raleigh, on Saturday, the 12th. inst.

A mass meeting of the Constitutional Union men of Anson will be held in Wadesboro', on the 15th. inst.

A general County meeting of the Conservatives of Chatham will be held in Pittsboro', on the 12th. inst., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the State Convention.

A meeting of the Conservative citizens of Duplin was held in Kenansville, on the 24th ult. Dr. James H. Hicks presided, and W. W. Whitehead and A. F. Williams acted as Secretaries. A general County meeting was called, to be held in the same place, on Tuesday of October Court, to select proper candidates to represent the County in the Convention.

The Conservative Convention for Wayne assembled in Goldsboro', on Tuesday. Dr. Adam C. Davis was chosen President, and E. A. Wright and J. B. Kennedy, Esqrs., Secretaries. Every precinct in the County was fully represented. The meeting was ably addressed by W. J. Mornsey, Esq. The following excellent resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the present condition of the country renders the co-operation of all Constitutional Union men, without reference to past party affiliations, necessary in the restoration of the State to its Constitutional relations with the Federal Union.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention that there should be held at an early day, in the city of Raleigh, a Convention of Constitutional Union men, and that the 16th. of October would be a suitable time.

Resolved, That the President of this Convention appoint three delegates from each election precinct to attend such Convention, if it should be decided to hold one, whenever the same may be held.

Resolved, That with a view to a thorough organization of Constitutional Union men in this county, the President appoint an executive committee to be composed of three persons from each district in the county, who are requested to adopt such measures as may be necessary to such thorough organization.

Resolved, That we will support no man for the approaching State Convention, to draw up a new Constitution, who is not pledged to oppose and defeat, by all legitimate means, any attempt to incorporate into the Constitution the proscriptive and vindictive measures of the ultra Radicals of this state.

So far as our observation has extended, the Conservative press of the State, without a solitary exception, have heartily endorsed the action and objects of the meeting held in this City, on the 27th. ult. This is hopeful and encouraging. Let the ball roll on;—let us have a co-operation and union of all Constitutional Union men, white and black, without reference to past or present party affiliations, in opposition to the designs of ultra-Radicalism, and we may yet do much for our native State and "its restoration to its Constitutional relations with the Federal Union."

We notice that the Convention in Wayne and the meeting in Duplin, both, appointed delegates to a State Convention to be held in this City on the 16th. inst. Some four or five other Counties have done the same. We believe, however, that it is the very general impression that, owing to the short intervening time, and for other reasons, it is not advisable to hold such a Convention at present. We beg our friends, nevertheless, to push on in the matter of County meetings and organization. Let every County in North Carolina move promptly and vigorously in the patriotic work.

STATE TAXES.

Such has been the uniform and general complaint, among all classes in this State, of the scarcity of money, that we supposed it would be impossible for the Sheriffs to collect the State taxes. Added to this, strong efforts have been made to discourage and prevent the people from paying their taxes,—by those, too, who would not dare to refuse to pay in their own cases,—with the view of bringing the less informed people into collision with the State and Federal authorities. But we are glad to say that, of the eighty-nine Sheriffs, only seven of them have thus far failed to settle with the Comptroller. The most of the settlements have been made promptly within a few days, and to the satisfaction of the Sheriffs, showing the ability, efficiency and promptness of the Comptroller, Public Treasurer and the excellent clerks employed in the Treasury Department. The probability is, that the delay of the seven has been caused by unavoidable hindrances, which they could not overcome.

Our people are a loyal people. They pay their public and local taxes, both to the Federal and State governments, and will forego many comforts, in order to be able to do it.

RED STRINGS, &c.—We are glad to hear that the exodus from the secret Radical associations continues in all parts of the State. Large numbers of white men, and many decent colored men, are leaving them in disgust. As their corruption and dangerous tendencies become better known, they will be indignantly abandoned by all good men, of either color.

RAD.—The 'Republican State Executive Committee" meets in this City, on Saturday. Daniel R. Goodloe, Esq. has declined to be considered a member of the Committee. We think it highly probable that one or two others will follow his example.

CHATHAM COUNTY.—A friend writes us that the white majority in Chatham is between eight and nine hundred, and that the County will elect good and prudent Conservatives to the Convention.

THINGS AT HOME.

The New York Herald has a correspondent in this State, who is tolerably well posted in political matters, and who, by peering around, has acquired considerable insight, specially, into the manoeuvering and wire-pulling of the Radical managers." In many of his speculations, he is at fault.—We make some extracts from his latest letter. First:

"The Congressional aspirants are some what prematurely commencing their campaigning—many of the ambitious being quietly but assiduously prosecuting their claims—and it is the race for these positions that is to be the most interesting. Already there are a number of Richmonds in the field. In the First district it is thought that Colonel David Carter, * * * will set himself up as a proper person to be voted for by the radicals; and he is drumming the negroes and poor whites with a pertinacity which leads those who are best informed to think that he will find but little opposition."

Col. Carter was a member, we are sorry to say, of the Radical Convention of the 27th. of March last, but his experience on that occasion was evidently too much for him, as he was not present in the late Jacobin affair at Tucker Hall. Had he been present, he would doubtless have opposed the designs and utterances of the majority in that body. We have, of course, no sort of authority to speak for him; but we are justified in saying that he is not in favor of Brownlowizing the State, that he is opposed to further disabilities, confiscation, &c., and that he sympathizes with the course of the Register, of this City. As to the Colonel's Congressional aspirations, there is probably no truth in the statement, as he cannot, and would not, take the "test-oath,"—having served in the Confederate army during the entire war.

We do not know what the correspondent means by the expression "poor whites," which he evidently employs in a disparaging sense, unless he means those who are so "poor" in spirit and self-respect, as to have suffered themselves to be misled by scheming Radical demagogues and lured into the secret associations of that faction. But again:

"In the Second District Colonel David Heaton, of Newbern, backed in his pretensions by the Newbern Republican, will make an effort to get the nomination; but Edgar Miller, a bright, shrewd mulatto, of Wilmington, is out against him, and he will stand a good chance before the nominating Convention, as well as before the people."

One of the principal reasons which have disgusted many of the native Republicans with the party management in this State, is the palpable ambition of the "Northern adventurers," the Yankee Radicals, to control it, to monopolize the offices, and to use the negroes in order to effect these ends. It would appear, from the foregoing, however, that Miller is not willing that his race should be used, without asserting a claim for a share of the spoils and honors. It would be retributive if Edgar should happen to beat his northern "friend and brother."

"The most furious of all the canvasses will be made in the Third District, in which Gen. Joseph C. Abbot, President of the late Convention, backed by the Post and a strong clique, is making superhuman endeavors to outgeneral James Bowman, of Fayetteville, whose popularity and influence with his black brethren is very great; but so far the darkey stands the best chance and has a better showing, from the fact that the Rev. James Sinclair, who is familiarly known as the "fighting parson," is a candidate, and will divide the white Radical vote."

Here, it seems, is a triangular fight.—Gen. Abbott is another specimen of the Northern wing of the party, who are seeking to take the lead, and to make the negroes believe that they, alone, are their special friends. We have been greatly disappointed in him. We believed, at one time, that he was fair and moderate, and that he supposed the war to be over. But "white folks,"—and especially white folks aspiring for Congressional perquisites—are "mighty unsartin."

There is one little obstacle in the way of the "fighting Parson," called the iron-clad, but, if he should be elected, he would speedily jump over that, as many others have done before him.

"The Raleigh district will also be the scene of a most animated race. Holden would not decline the honor; Harris is keen on the scent for the nomination; Fontleroy Taylor hankers for the prefix "Honorable," and then Dr. Eugene B. Grissom and Rev. G. W. Brodie are already in the field."

Verily, this is a mess. Dr. Grissom, according to the Register, is not with the ultra-Radicals, however. We do not know how that is, but we take it for granted that that journal speaks by the card. "The trotting-park" near this City may as well be closed, in view of such an exciting scrub-race as this correspondent promises. It is rumored that Col. J. T. Deweese may also be one of the contestants. Finally, he says:

"Throughout the State the same jealousy between the members of the same party exists, and it appears as if every one would be an office holder. Such seemed to be the disposition of quite a number of radicals who, in Anson county, last week, renounced their membership of the Union League and exploded the secrets. Disappointed in getting position, they abandoned the organization. Others will do likewise. None of the Southern whites who have joined the radicals are honestly in consonance with the party in its views. They are merely subserving selfish purposes."

That last is "sorter so" and "sorter not so." They are subserving selfish purposes,—that is their end and aim, and they are willing to do anything in order to accomplish them, no matter what injury it may work their fellow-citizens or what ruin it may bring upon the State; but still it is a mistake to suppose that many of the leaders are not at heart "in consonance with the party in its views." They could'nt be anything else but vindictive, extreme and malevolent, were they to try to be otherwise ever so hard. It is in grain, and double-dyed, at that. Most of those, however, who have been deluded into Radical affiliation, by means of the Leagues, &c., are well-meaning, honest men, and they are deserting, and will continue to abandon it, now that the cloven foot has been shown.

Gen. John A. Logan favors the election of negroes to Congress, and is not opposed to having a negro for President.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

WILKESBORO', N. C., Sept. 30.

Leaving the Western Railroad at Statesville, I reined up first at Olin, once "Olin High School." It is now a sufferer by the war, but evidently a busy little place. Trading is going on briskly, and it wears the appearance of thrift and recuperation.

The venerable Dr. Closs, of the Methodist Church, has found a "local habitation" near Olin; and, judging from his healthful and rejuvenated appearance, one is led to think he will add some years to his useful life by his removal to these healthy regions of North Carolina.

ROCKFORD.

The Pearson Law School, near this village, has re-opened its sessions. But few are in yet. Well may we hope for such a time of prosperity as will enable our young men to enjoy the advantages of Judge Pearson's remarkable ability for fitting men for the bar. He has turned out some of the first men of our good old State. Gov. Vance and Judge Fowle are of the number.

Rockford lies on the Yadkin river, and evidently wears the dust of the war.

YADKINVILLE.

This is the centre of a good country trade. Last week was Court week,—Judge Little presiding. This must be an important bar. There were in attendance, among others, Hon. Jno. A. Gilmer and Hon. Nathaniel Boyden.

Yadkinville is but an illustration of what may be seen all over our country. When one gets say fifty or seventy five miles from a Railroad, dullness is as perceptible as daylight. It is a high, healthy, fine locality, but too far from market.

YADKIN VALLEY.

The valley of the Yadkin, especially including its tributaries, is one of the very best parts of North Carolina. It is a rich, fertile and extended country, stretching from the Blue Ridge country through the counties of Wilkes, Yadkin, Davie, Davidson, Rowan, Stanly, Montgomery, Anson and Richmond, into South Carolina, where it becomes the Great Pee Dee. It embraces an immense corn and cotton country, and has made many a man rich. Among the less fastidious, it goes by the easier name of the Adkin. It seems to me to have the most extensive progeny of any stream in the land. Nine-tenths of the little streams I cross appear to be called "Little Adkin." I began to think of Dover Station, Upper Dover, Middle Dover, Lower Dover, East Dover, West Dover, etc., etc.

BEEF.

The Yadkin valley beef is a rare article and high in price. Good beef cannot be made without two other good things, viz: good pasture and good water. This valley abounds in these two commodities. Hence, the beef is extra. The land lacks but two things, lime and blue grass, and, when these are fully introduced, this ought to become a model beef region.

Dr. Holt's farm, "Linwood," is a sample of what can be done on the route of this river. Better cows and horses no man needs than he has succeeded in raising, between Lexington and Salisbury.

BUTTER.

Butter of the finest quality and in abundance is made in the course of the Yadkin. It is usually put up in very large firkins. This needs an improvement. It ought to be put into twenty-five pound tubs and then sent to market for family use.

DOBSON.

The County seat of Surry, Dobson by name, is an eventless little place, with nothing but quiet and a painful stillness.—It is the home of Col. Waugh, of legislative renown. A stern, hardened politician he has represented his people well; and he looks as though he were ready for another heat.

ELKIN.

Elkin Creek is a tributary of the Yadkin. It rises in the Blue Ridge, and after falling and tumbling from precipice to precipice, it finds its way to the river, at a point directly opposite to Jonesville. At its mouth stands the "Elkin Cotton Factory," with a capacity for one hundred thousand yards of brown sheeting per annum. This Factory, with its surroundings, is a spot of great picturesque beauty. Indeed, Elkin Creek is an enchanting stream, as are hundreds more of these western North Carolina mountain streams. What a lesson of real life it teaches! Its head waters are properly chrystal springs in the deep, dark coves along mountain slopes. One by one, they trickle from under the massive rocks, in search of company, until they muster force sufficient to make noise enough to gather a little army of wandering streams, and go dashing down towards the level lands below. Here, for the first time, the stream flows more slowly. It begins to realize that the life on which it has entered is a sober reality. It has gone but a few miles, before it is called upon to turn a ponderous wheel. Its chrystal purity begins to grow dim. It rolls and plunges into the turbulent river, and, mingling with the representatives of a dozen sections, it begins to sigh for its quiet home. But it is doomed to labor. Machinery must be turned; clothing and food must be made. It goes heavily and slowly to its task. It passes fields and cities, and beholds a busy world,—ploughs and work-shops all toiling; and it learns the lesson, long ago taught, that "bread shall be eaten by the sweat of the brow." Soon the verge of the ocean is reached. Here are the representatives from all nations; little streams from ten thousand mountains, all in one commingled sea. All have lost their chrystal purity.—Ships from all coasts are to be borne; nations to be fed; tempests to be withstood. And childhood, though sighed after, has forever receded from the grasp.

WILKESBOROUGH.

This little mountain town seems to drag rather slowly. With a fine society and a very intelligent people, business is dull and the people seem despondent. They need not be; they have good lands, rich minerals, fine pastures and a healthy region. They never knew the sun to set behind their mountains, but it arose again in due time. Dark clouds have rested upon America before to-day, but a kind Providence has cleared them away again. The sky may look dark, but it will brighten anon. I am a firm believer in the might of truth, and justice and reason; they will prevail at last, and all our country become bright once more. Our land will sell high one day. Only let us toil on, and do God's bidding, and He will reward us, at last.

GEN. GORDON.

I stood, yesterday, beside the grave of General Gordon. Whether the cause he espoused was just or unjust, is one of those questions which one half of this world will decide one way and the other half the other way. But, mistaken or not, Gordon was a bold, brave and gallant officer. He was beloved by his people. And if his portrait on his mother's wall is a faithful representation, he must have been a man of uncommonly handsome and noble bearing. Bland and gentle in expression, he was at the same time strong in intellect, forcible and solid.

There is hardly a more quiet spot on earth than his grave. It is in the yard of the Episcopal Church of Wilkesboro. His half brother, Col. H. A. Brown, has settled in his old home, Wilkesboro. The venerable mother of Gen. Gordon, now Mrs. Col. Brown, resides here. It takes one back to other times to see this lady. She is one of those dignified matrons of the generation just passing away, who seem almost like a separate race. Dignity, intelligence and kindness seem to be the essence of their whole character.

The scenery around this village is surpassingly grand. There are elevated spots within the corporation, from which the finest views may be had, not the least of which is a beautiful view of the region off towards the Brushy Mountains, which I must cross to-day.

You may hear from me at Mount Airy.

——The following Registration returns are official. We copy them from the Wilmington Post:

	Whites.	Blacks
Columbus	838	513
Duplin	1,410	1,087
Sampson	1,461	961

——Jacob Inge and D. W. Williams, whites, and David Hawkins, negro, are candidates for the "Constitutional" Convention from the County of Nash.

——The Salisbury Banner understands, from a reliable quarter, that the Red String organization, in the Morgan Beat, of Rowan County, held a meeting a few days ago for the purpose of reorganizing, and out of forty-four old members only four re-enlisted—a loss at that lodge of forty members. The same paper adds:

"We hear of a great falling off in other quarters. It seems that all the more sensible and respectable members are thoroughly disgusted at the late action of the dark-lantern, radical meeting, held in this city, at which C. S. Moring and Allen Rose were selected as candidates for the Convention. We are not at all surprised at this, and we expect that ere long that meeting and its pimps will be utterly repudiated, not only by all conservatives, but all sensible and right thinking leaguers."

——On Saturday night last, some villain fired the residence of Gen. Ransom, in Wilmington. The flames were extinguished, before they had made any considerable headway.

——John White, Esq., formerly of Warrenton, and lately of the firm of White & Faulkner of Petersburg, Va., will shortly leave for Liverpool, England, where he will establish himself as a merchant, with business connections at Norfolk, Va.

——The Union County rioters ("Leaguers") have been tried before a Military Court in Charlotte. Gen. Rufus Barringer appeared for the prisoners. The findings of the Commission have not transpired.

——The Petersburg Express gives the following list of North Carolinians doing business in Petersburg,—a goodly representation:

"P. T. Norwood, of the firm of Wright, Norwood and Westray, Dry Goods Merchants; S. T. Green, of the firm of J. L. & S. T. Green, Commission Merchants; S. L. Plummer, of the firm of Jones & Plummer, Commission Merchants; W. H. Littlejohn, of the firm of Marks & Littlejohn; J. H. Herbert, of the firm of Branch & Herbert, Commission Merchants; W. D. Berkley, of the firm of Branch, Drewry & Co., Commission Merchants; S. S. Bridgers, of McIlwaine & Co., Commission Merchants; J. A. Harrison, of Green & Harrison, Commission Merchants; W. A. K. Falkner and John Arrington, of Falkner & Co., Boot and Shoe Dealers; S. A. Plummer, W. T. Plummer and D. Young, of Plummer, Young & Co., Hardware Merchants; D. Herbert, of Allen & Herbert, Labor Agents."

——Rev. T. B. Kingsbury, of the Warrenton Indicator, has received and accepted an invitation to deliver a thinksgiving sermon before the Border Agricultural Society of North Carolina and Virginia. The Society meets at Danville during the month of November.

——The Warrenton Courier gives a sad picture of the religious condition of the negroes of that county. It says:

"The religious excitement amongst the colored people in some parts of the county exceeds anything that we have ever heard of in any civilized country. We beg the pardon of our readers, for we believe we have used a misnomer, in calling superstitious nonsense religious excitement. Not more than ten miles from this place there are negroes representing themselves as Christ, prophets and prophetesses. They pretend to raise the dead, heal the sick and divine human events. Many converts have been made, who are as scrupulous in their worship as the Hindoos themselves.

From the Mobile Register.

THE LATE COL. F. B. SHEPARD.

We, the friends of the late Col. Frederick B. Shepard, who are now in the city, deem it to be due his memory, to his interesting and bereaved family, and to his distant friends and relatives, to vindicate his character, so far as may be done in a brief communication, from the aspersions which his personal enemies attempted to cast upon it by their ex parte statements on the trial of Capt. Morris Schaff, before a court martial, recently assembled in this city. To this end, we call attention to the following facts connected with this trial, and make the statements and deductions herein contained:

When the trial commenced Col. Shepard was lying at the point of death. He died the morning the court adjourned, and was not in a condition to have made suggestions as to the conduct of the cause, had he been allowed to do so.

He was not allowed to be represented at the examination. His son applied to have witnesses to material facts subpœnaed, and also for permission to have his father represented by counsel on the examination, but the application was refused on the ground that Capt. Schaff was on trial, and not Col. Shepard. The evidence, therefore, as to Col. Shepard's antecedents and character, was purely ex parte. Nearly all the civilians examined were the bitter enemies of Col. Shepard, whom he had ceased to recognize in any of the relations of life.

Col. Shepard, at the time of the shooting, was first insulted and attacked by Capt. Schaff with a pistol drawn, and was shot by him while unarmed, under guard, and under the command of another officer.

* * * * *

Col. Shepard sprang from one of the oldest and most respectable families of North Carolina. His education was that of a gentleman, and a portion of it was received at the Military Academy of West Point; and his bearing was what might have been expected of his family, education and associations. He was, it is true, quick to defend his honor, and to resent an insult; but, from a long and intimate acquaintance, we feel satisfied that no stain of dishonor ever attached to his name, and that he was led, or attempted to be led, into some of the difficulties now adduced as evidence of his violent character, by reports put in circulation by those seeking to defame that character when he was not present to defend it.

Col. Shepard was doubtless unpopular with many around him, who were incapable of appreciating the nobility of character, the manly bearing, and the chivalric spirit, for which he was noted through life.

It is the purpose of this communication to protect Col. Shepard's good name, where he is unknown, from the obloquy attempted to be fixed on it by malice or misrepresentation, and we take pleasure in discharging a duty which, a sense of right to the honorable dead imposed on us.

Among the names will be found that of Mrs. Van Dorn—widow of the late General Van Dorn—and her mother, Mrs. Godbold, whose husband it was testified at the Court Martial was challenged by Col. Shepard. Is not this fact sufficient refutation of that assertion?

THE LATE COL. FREDERICK B. SHEPARD.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Mount Vernon, grieved and shocked at the late tragedy enacted here, and desiring to bear our testimony to the noble character of the deceased, do here declare that we have ever found Col. A RARE CHANCE.

I OFFER for sale, privately, the Farm on which I reside, situated in Franklin County, about three-fourths of a mile north of the town of Louisburg.

The tract lies between the Warrenton and Halifax roads, and contains about two hundred and seventy (270) acres—some twenty-five or thirty acres being good creek low-grounds, and the balance high-land, lying well for improvement. The timber is sufficient for farm purposes. The Dwelling House is a first-rate two-storied building near the Warrenton road, and about one mile from the Louisburg Female College, conducted by Rev. T. M. Jones, and the same distance from the Male Academy, under the management of M. S. Davis, Esq. The reputation of these schools is well established. The Out-houses are sufficient in number and condition. There is a good well near the dwelling, and a very fine spring a little farther off.

For healthfulness, this place is deliberately pronounced equal to any of the summer resorts in this region of country.

I shall be pleased to show the premises to any one desiring to purchase.

N. J. BARHAM.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—N. J. Barham, Louisburg, offers for sale, privately, a valuable farm, with desirable improvements. See advertisement.

Gilliam & Dunlop, 121 Sycamore St., Petersburg, Va: Iron and Steel Dealers.—Also Agents for sale of Fairbanks' Scales and all descriptions of Manhattan Oils. We commend this firm to our North Carolina Dealers.

Agricultural Ware-House, &c: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

Messrs. S. H. & W. J. Young announce their Fall and Winter importations,—a splendid and varied stock. The Senior of this firm is one of our most experienced Merchants, and his taste and judgment may be relied on. Call at No. 21, Fayetteville Street, and examine these new arrivals.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Thos. Johnson, charged with stealing money and a watch-chain from Flora Ann Norris, was returned to the Superior Court.

J. Beck, charged with assaulting L. Beck, was returned to the Superior Court.

WAKE SUPERIOR COURT.—The trial of Bryant for the murder of Sauls, which was set for yesterday, has been continued until the next term of the Court. The misdemeanor docket, which is heavy, is now being gone through with.

MILITARY COMMISSION.—This tribunal, we learn, is at present engaged in the trial of a negro for rape. The Judge Advocate appears for the Government. There are no counsel employed.

This is the same negro, we understand, who was convicted in the Superior Court of Granville County, for a rape upon the person of a white woman, during the absence of her husband in the Confederate army, and condemned to be hung. He subsequently escaped from jail, but was arrested since the close of the war, in the District of Columbia, under requisition from the Governor of the State, and re-sentenced by Judge Warren.

DRY WEATHER.—During the summer we had rain enough and to spare. A good shower, now, would be very acceptable. The dust on our streets is almost intolerable. It penetrates every pore, blinds the eyes, and is a sore nuisance to house-keepers living on the thoroughfares.

EXPLODED.—We learn that the Union League, at Fuqua Springs, in this County, a few days since disbanded its organization and adjourned sine die. We should not be surprised if, in less than two months from this day, no decent white and colored man can be found in these midnight concluves.

QUERE?—Is it true that there is a "Third Degree," which the negroes are not permitted to take, and which enjoins the selection of white men for office?

THE HENDERSON FAIR.—We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary badge of the Central Agricultural Society, from P. E. A. Jones, Esq., Chairman of the Executive Committee, for this Fair, which takes place on the 16th., 17th. and 18th. inst. We shall be glad to have the Sentinel represented upon the occasion, as it promises to be one of unusual attraction and interest. The farmers, and others, of Granville, and the contiguous counties, deserve all praise for their public spirit and energy in keeping up this Fair amid the discouragements of the times. Their example is worthy of all emulation.

All articles intended for the exhibition, and all persons desiring to visit it, will be transported at one half the usual rates.—We hope to see Wake well represented in its productions and by a good attendance of its people.

The annual Address will be delivered by Col. J. I. Scales. This is a good selection. Col. Scales is a native of Rockingham, a graduate with the first distinction at the University, and he formerly represented Alamance in the General Assembly. He moved to Mississippi just before the breaking out of the war. By great gallantry he became, during the struggle, a Colonel of Volunteers.

The following is the correspondence between the Committee and Col. Scales:

HENDERSON, Sept. 1st. 1867.

COL. J. I. SCALES:

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Central Agricultural Society, held the 14th. of July, 1867, we, the undersigned, were appointed as a Committee to solicit some prominent gentleman to deliver the 9th. annual address, at Henderson, on the 17th. of October next; and, in acknowledgement of the honor, respectfully ask that you will comply with the wishes of the Society.

Very respectfully, &c.

W. W. Jones,
S. S. Cooper, } Committee.
I. J. Young.

ASHLAND, GRANVILLE Co. N. C., September 4th. 1867.

Gentlemen:—Your communication of the 1st. inst., is to hand. I accept the honor of my countymen, and will endeavor to meet you at the time and place specified.

I am, Gentlemen,
Very respectfully, &c.,
J. I. SCALES.

To
W. W. Jones,
S. S. Cooper, } Committee.
I. J. Young.

From the Wilmington Journal.

NEGRO EQUALITY.

Messrs. Editors:—We should not insist on filling your columns with nonsense, but the following is such a good joke on Snider that we feel that we should be doing an injustice to the laughing portion of our community to withhold it. According to appointment, it seems, a couple of orators, one a colored gentleman, and the other a white man with negro principles, both belonging to the so-called Union League fraternity, met at one of the precincts in Robeson county to discuss the signs of the times, which they failed to do from some cause.—Evening approached; they called in to spend the night with a gentleman whom they supposed to be a follower, if not a disciple. However, we shall see as to that. Supper coming on, the two were invited into the dining room to discuss their cold coffee in doleful solitude. After which a clean cloth was spread and the family took their warm tea. The clock struck nine, and they were shown into a sleeping apartment where there was but one bed only.

"Policy perhaps induced the old gentleman to serve his noble guests himself, a portion of which duty was to carry a pitcher of water into their room next morning.—Whereupon, much to his amazement, the following scene appeared: The feather bed on the floor, Pompey on that; the mattress on the stead, his chum on that.

"Is dat you Sambo? I know 'tis Jim,
You are right good looking, but I can't take you in."

Well done, Mr. F., do him so again; we, don't care. PEEPING ABOUT.

Big Swamp, Sept. 25, 1867.

A RICH CONVERSATION BETWEEN TWO FREEDMEN.

Mose.—Look here, Sam, I no see you at de leage meetin dis long time.

Sam.—No, Mose, things don't please me in de leage, an I thought I better draw.

Mose.—Well, what's de matter? If anything is wrong, I want to know it too.

Sam.—I tell you, Mose, I almost fraid to talk, for Mr. Pope might banish me, like he did Mr. Ben. Hill, for speakin' my 'pinions.

Mose.—Now, Sam, you just tell me, an' 'pon my word I'll say nofin 'bout it.

Sam.—Well, Mose, on dat promise I'll tell you. You know the Scripture says a man is known by de company he keeps, an' I neber see any 'spectable white folks at de leage meetings; so dis darkee ain't gwine to be caught in company wid dem white trash and fool niggers any more.—Atlanta Intelligencer.

DEATH OF STERLING PRICE.—Gen. Sterling Price, of Missouri, is dead. Yesterday we announced in a line his serious illness, which was all we had information of, but even at that time he had passed from among the living. We know nothing as yet of the disease which bore him off, how long he was sick, or the precise day of his death. We only know that his great, manly heart has ceased to beat, and that his noble soul has gone to the presence of its Creator. A sketch of his eventful life, to be at all adequate, would be too voluminous for a newspaper. A mere panegyric would be beneath the dignity of a career marked by so many high achievements and crowned with so much honor. For the present, it is enough to say that few survive him who commanded as genuine and as general respect living, or will be so widely and sincerely lamented when dead.—Rich. Whig.

The Boston Post correspondent says: "Mr. Campbell, Senator-elect from South Carolina, is here and expressed his dissent from the views expressed by Governor Orr in his letter to Gen. Sickles. He contends that the Legislature of South Carolina would have passed a stay law had the people desired one, or had there been the apprehensions of bloodshed of which Governor Orr speaks. The explanation seems to be that Gen. Sickles and Governor Orr had arranged to have themselves elected United States Senators, which was supposed to be an easy thing as Gen. Sickles could control the popular vote, while Governor Orr secured the General's nomination with his own."

The Episcopal Church at Phœnixville, Chester county, Pa., was set on fire by an incendiary on Wednesday night. Bibles, prayer books and library books were used to kindle the flames, consuming almost entirely the Sunday-school library of nine hundred volumes. By the exertion of the people the church was saved from destruction, though not until the Sunday-school room had suffered considerable damage. The incendiary got into the building by breaking open a shutter of the school-room.

The widow of Stephen A. Douglas, now Mrs. Gen. Williams, entered a suit for right of dower, some time since, in real estate in the South part of Chicago, now worth $100,000. Although it was proved in evidence that she had signed away her right of dower, she claimed an informality which vitiated the action. The trial has just taken place before Judge Wilson, and he has decided against the claim of Mrs. Douglas.

THE LOUISIANA ELECTION.—Gen. Grant has received a dispatch from Gen. Mower stating that the election in New Orleans passed quietly, and that nothing occurred in the interior in the way of disturbance, so far as he had heard yesterday. He did not express any opinion as to the result, but it is generally conceded that the convention question was carried by a small majority.—Wash. Chronicle.

Since the election the municipal imbroglio in Nashville appears to have become even more complicated than ever. Application for an injunction to restrain the new officers from being inducted into office has been made by the authorities now in possession, and it believed that the old officers will find themselves bayonetted out, if they do not vacate soon of their own accord.

A dispatch to the New York World says: Charges have been made against General Swayne, at the head of the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama, on the ground that he is running the office in the interest of himself as a candidate for the United States Senate under the reconstructed State. His chief clerk, one Keffer, is the chairman of the State Radical Central Committee.

After surveying the ground on which the two great parties of the North have arrayed their forces for the coming struggle, the New York Herald says that in ten days it expects to see the handwriting on the wall which is to announce the doom of the Radical party. We trust that the up strokes will be light and the down strokes heavy.

On Saturday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, as the sloop M. E. Hays was coming into Campbell's wharf, while jibbing, the main boom struck a passenger on board from Craney Island, Thomas Stewart, knocking him overboard and causing his death by drowning. The deceased was from North Carolina.—Norfolk Journal.

It is said that General Pope removes from office within his District all the persons who were in the army that whipped him.—Prentice.

Thursday Afternoon Dispatches.

THE CASE OF THE HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3, M.

The intimations that the Executive Department is interesting itself about Mr. Davis' trial are entirely groundless. Since Mr. Davis was delivered to the Judicial authorities in May, the Federal Executive has taken no action in his case.

Hon. James Lyons, of Virginia, who was recently here from visiting his client, represents Mr. Davis to be ready and anxious for a trial.—The defence will contend that the recognized constitutional doctrine, both North and South, previous to the war, was that the first allegiance of the citizen was due to the State—it having the immediate control of the citizen's life and property, and unfaithfulness to it would have involved the immediate loss of both.

The Republican has returns from twelve Parishes, including Orleans, giving a total vote of 28,681, it being a majority of 1618 of the registered voters.

In every county parish heard from, a majority of the registered voted. It is supposed that nearly every one of the remaining 36 parishes will poll a majority of the voters.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM GEN. CANBY.

WILMINGTON, Oct. 3, P. M.

Col. Frank, commanding this Post, has received instructions from Gen. Canby, to no longer oppose the enforcement of civil process from the U. S. Circuit Court.

ANOTHER WHISKEY RIOT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3 P. M

The Revenue Officers made a descent on the illicit distilleries in the suburbs of the city, and were driven off. They returned reinforced, and were removing the stills, when they were again attacked and were driven off. Pistols and bricks were used. The Deputy U. S. Marshal received six serious wounds.

One of the rioters was shot in the head. Several were hurt on both sides.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Oct. 3, P. M.

A Florence dispatch says the Viterba outbreak has not been quelled. Orieto has been captured,—the insurgents holding all the roads leading to it.

The Pope's commander has demanded assistance from Italy, which was refused.

The revolt is undoubtedly serious. There are alarming apprehensions of the interruption of friendly relations between France and Italy.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3, P. M.

IMPORTANT TO CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW

Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk

FREIGHT LINE,

VIA PETERSBURG, VA.,

Comprising the following great Freight Routes:

THE POWHATAN

Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,

PETERSBURG AND WELDON,

RALEIGH AND GASTON,

NORTH CAROLINA,

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND WELDON,

ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,

CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,

And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro', Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton, Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Winnsboro', Columbia, Sumterville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c. &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "VIA PETERSBURG."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways ☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N. B.—With regard to last named points, freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and N. Y. Steamers.

For rates and all further information apply to any Freight Agent on the Line, or at the Old Prices Reached the City and Stopped at

A. CREECH'S,

R. SMITH'S CORNER,

Fayetteville Street.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINter Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15, and 18 cents per yard.
FRENCH MERINOS, 75 cts. to $1,25 per yard.
DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the new novelties of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.
BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.
BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.
Also, the largest and most varied stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS, AND KENTUCKY JEANS

I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.

Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,

LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,

which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS,—new styles, from 50 cents to $4,00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make, and others of equally high standing.

Ladies' Pegged Balmorals, from $1 to $2.
Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,50 to $3,50.

CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1867.

TIRED.

Yes, I am tired, dear. I will not try
To stem the ebbing current any more,
Nor vex with fruitless prayers the iron sky.
Nor dot with idle tears the barren shore.
The rippling waves that kissed my happy hand,
The waves with laughing music in their flow,
Softly I watch them o'er the broadening sand;
But I am very tired—let me go!

Too long my chafing pride has stooped to strive
To fan the embers into life again;
No faith can keep the flickering flame alive—
The lingering vigil is but lingering pain.
Too late the voice assumes a tender tone;
Too late the life in loving smiles is dress;
The tide is out, the last faint spark is gone,
And I am very tired—let me rest!

Yes, tired—neither angry nor ashamed;
Each wretched mood has fret its feverish hour;
Let the pale bud lie, withered and unclaimed—
Dead, or in gentlest sun or purest shower,
Perchance some little life may linger yet
In the crushed stem and withered leaves we see;
But what avails repentance or regret?
I am so tired—tired let it be!

I did so much; I am all worn and cold;
I strive no longer; let what must be, must;
I could not give your hand the strength to hold,
I could not give your heart the depth to trust.
How you will miss me? I could weep your want
Of the close, silent love that fenced you on;
The cup I filled was neither weak nor scant,
But I am very tired—let it go!

BARNUM'S GORILLA ATTACKS HIS KEEPER.—The New York Evening Post of Saturday says:

The gorilla recently placed in Barnum's Museum yesterday afternoon gave an exhibition of his natural fierceness by attacking his keeper, Prof. Davison. Fortunately the latter escaped without serious injury, and at the same time without giving the gorilla an opportunity to practically demonstrate to the incredulous whether the said animal has sufficient power to tear a man to pieces.

A temporary guard is placed in front of the cage of the gorilla, to keep venturesome persons from going so near that the animal can reach them. Inside of this railing Prof. Davison stands for the purpose of attending the gorilla, answering the questions of spectators, &c. It is also a part of his duty to feed the gorilla, and it would be supposed from this fact that he would be quite free from attack. It has proved otherwise, however.

Yesterday afternoon, as Mr. Davison was in his accustomed place, he ventured too near the bars of the cage, within reach of the monster. The hand of the animal instantly grasped Davison's right arm.

Professor Davison almost instinctively dropped to the floor, so as to bring the hand of the gorilla to the floor of the cage, before he could grasp him with his other hand. To have resisted standing would have given the gorilla an opportunity to have pulled the arm out by the socket, if he had the power, which Professor Davison professes to believe.

The grip of the animal slipped from the arm of Mr. Davison, but still retained hold of the coat. As the keeper fell the beast held his whole weight at arm's length with apparent ease. Professor Davison quickly threw off his coat, which was torn to shreds by the gorilla.

The affair caused much excitement for a few moments. Professor Davison was slightly injured.

A FAMILY BROKEN UP BY DEATH IN A SINGLE NIGHT.—On Saturday there lived a happy family at 1207 south 7th street, consisting of Mr. Hussman, tobacconist, his wife, Barbara, and three children—August, aged three years; Emma, two; and Robert, four years. During the evening Mrs. Hussman was suddenly taken sick, and died during the night. Subsequently the children were ill, and by Sunday at noon the mother and her three children were dead. Mr. Hussman was also attacked, but is still alive, and will probably recover. These sudden deaths created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, and it was first reported that poison had been the agent in some mysterious way, but there was no foundation for the report. Drs. Smith and Fisher attended the family, and from their testimony, and that of two other physicians, who also visited the house, cholera morbus was the cause of death.—St. Louis Republican.

COTTON GIN HORSE POWERS.

WE BEG LEAVE TO INVITE THE ATTENTION OF COTTON PLANTERS TO OUR

IMPROVED EIGHT-FEET STATIONARY POWER.

FOR

DRIVING COTTON GINS.

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hoon, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

* * * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 2 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the State, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. H. HOOD.

RAILROADS.

ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD

AND

NORTH CAROLINA

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORT and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $480,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Fees for all the Lectures, $140; Matriculation, (paid but once) $5; Practical Anatomy, $10. Payment required in advance.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS,

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press work at Mr. P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement, and MORE. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.
W. B. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.
THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.
D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.
J. H. CURRY,
Sup't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a screw.
PETER E. SMITH.

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr. Jos. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all that they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.
RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SITERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the state of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such state by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention; and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as hereinbefore specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office." Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE

Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing

LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench.

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause. You are saved from the immense water damage
